IGFR – Pre-Tour in Saint-Malo

SAINT-MALO GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB: Par 72

<http://www.saintmalogolf.com>

Designed in 1986 by Hubert Chesneau, also the architect of the «Golf National», host to the French Open. Set in the Mesnil forest, ancient hunting grounds of Robert Surcouf & surrounded by the vast Mirloup lake, the course boasts spectacular views and plenty of water hazards (13). The course is maintained to Championship level by Paul Bontemps (7 years Director of Greenkeeping Studies - Neuvic).

DINARD GOLF CLUB: Par 68

<http://www.dinardgolf.com>

Designed by Tom Dunn in 1887, this course is the second oldest in France after Pau (1856). Laid out alongside France's Emerald Coast, players enjoy sea views from all 18 holes, each of which has its own individual name (the dog's paw, the complete disaster, etc.) This course is neither long nor tiring, so it may deceive the unwary into thinking that it is easy, but the final score tells the real story. This course is more tricky than difficult, with its sandy soil, undulating fairways, small, high, very fast greens and many bunkers; it also has very few trees, but plenty of broom and gorse bushes.

THE BAY OF MONT SAINT MICHEL

Situated in the middle of a bay, the Mont Saint-Michel welcomes nearly three and a half million people every year. At the entrance of this medieval town is the ancient Burgher's Guardroom, now the Tourist Office. After going through the Boulevard Gate and then the King's Gate, fortified with its portcullis, you will find the « Grande Rue » with its museums, shops and houses dating from the 15th and 16th centuries. The parish church consecrated to St. Pierre, the patron saint of fishermen, is a small edifice from the 15th and 16th centuries.

LUNCH AT « LA MERE POULARD »

Annette Poulard is famous for founding L'Auberge de la Mère Poulard in 1888. She discovered the secret of eternal youth in her love for Mont Saint Michel and her passion for the culinary arts. Michel Bruneau is the master chef at La Mère Poulard and founder of La Bourride (Michelin 2 star). He has dedicated his life to promoting the specialities of the region and furthering French culinary arts.
